

How can these findings be transferred to 3D (hemisphere?)

How can these findings be transferred to anisotropy?

32 electrodes, 3D shape

Global temp/humidity is easy to measure without the need for optimal configurations